Interview Global Educator On: AWAKENING TO WHAT LIES WITHIN: A BLUEPRINT FOR OTHERS SEEKING ANSWERS

David Scott believes we all have a greater version of ourselves waiting to come out. Having lived all over the world, Scott has a cross-cultural perspective on human nature. But no matter where he goes, one thing remains constant: there is a gift awaiting all of us, we just need the courage to look within.

Scott's own journey to discover the power within himself came from meditation and the study of various teachings. Now Scott is on a new journey – a journey to awaken others to what lies within. His new book, The Longest Distance, does just that!

“I wanted to invite others to take the journey I had taken,” says David. “The Longest Distance offers a pathway for others. It provides one possible blueprint for answering the questions that must be answered from within. I wanted to provide a graceful entrance into the unknown by expanding all possibilities for greater love and higher expression.”

Ultimately, David wants The Longest Distance, “to inspire us to go higher and deeper in pursuit of the answers to ‘our questions.’ When we are ready to let go, that is when the magic happens. Miracles are not really miracles at all. Just the power of the possible that resides within, coming through. The miracle is our awakening to it.”

During a powerful and uplifting interview, David can enlighten your audience on the following topics:

- Discovering your true purpose
- Unplugging... and getting charged within
- Living the life you were born to live
- There is a gift awaiting you... the answers to ‘your questions’
- Overcoming obstacles by letting the heart lead
- Meditation and personal transformation
- Self-discovery to bringing greater value to one’s life

David Scott was born in the United States, and raised in the world. He currently resides in Singapore, but remains deeply connected to the passion that is Paris, the power shift that finds its new home in Asia, and the movement to co-create and cooperate that had its genesis for him in America; its inspiration both within and throughout.

David has spent his career in the field of education, his life in the field of service. He is perhaps best known for his contributions as an accomplished entrepreneur, investor and leader in education, establishing and stewarding innovative school systems of size and scope in North America, the Middle East and Pacific Asia. He has played both visionary leader and humble student, with each measure of the world his teacher. David's work in education and support of the life sciences has provided hope for a more advanced, equitable and sustainable means to greater health and life for those he has been privileged in knowing.
